

News from the IMC

June 2009

End of the Year Issue

We will use Express Checkout at the end of the year. If you don't owe anything to the IMC, you don't have to stop in to get your paper signed, although we would love to see you.

We will email a form on June 9th that says everything has been returned to the IMC, and you can attach that to your obligation form.

Don't delete the email with the subject - Express Checkout

Thinking About Next Year

We know that you are looking forward to a relaxing summer and next September is not even a blip on the radar screen, but we would like to invite you to think about incorporating some new ideas in your research assignments. This year, we worked with several teachers including Krista Scardino Welch, Karen Wiles and Brittany Mason. They required their students to present their research findings in the form of blogs, wikis, and podcasts. It was a risk on the part of the teacher, but the students learned how to use the new Web 2.0 technology. You don't need to know how to make a podcast, wiki or blog, you can learn as we teach your students. Stop in the IMC or email one of the librarians and we can help you plan an assignment using Web 2.0 technology.

Looking for a Good Book

We know you are always looking for a good book to read so we posted lists of books on the IMC home page. Go the IMC home page and click on Reading Corner and then click on Reading Lists and then look under More Lists.

We thought we would give you a head start on your beach reading and distribute the beach book list a bit earlier this year. We will put the list in your mailboxes on June 10th so you can have time to look it over and decide which books you want to check out over the summer.
