What will make your year different than all the other years? My year will be different from others because we will try to make a change, and I hope to be a part of that change.

President

Joey Bollendorf

Why did you choose this position?

I feel with my past 3 years on the Exec. Board, I have what it takes and the leadership to represent the student body.

What are three characteristics that qualify you for this position?

I am a leader, I enjoy working with others, and I am open for any ideas and will work hard to make sure those ideas will be considered to be put in effect.

Other school activities:

Football, Freshman Transition, National Honor Society, and Project 540

If elected, how will you perform your duties?

I will be sure to take in any considerations the students have. Also, I will do what I feel is in my best interest to make the school better. I will work my hardest to make sure that school is more interesting for everyone.

What will make your year different than all the other years?

I feel that I can talk to anyone and make sure they are doing okay. Reach out to the students and be able to work with them for a better experience in school.

Why did you choose this position?

I feel that I can bring student council to the next level.

I will organize and plan for all events/meetings scheduled for that upcoming week/month. I will make sure to be a positive role model for our school and represent Student Council. I will ask the student body what they want/miss/dislike about our school, and see how I can grant their requests.

What will make your year different than all the other years?

I am determined to make our school better in any way possible. I want to be able to leave student council with a strong core that they can build off of in the upcoming years. I want to make the best of everything I do as well as for my peers. If elected president I will be able to achieve these goals. Overall I just want to live it up and have fun because you only live once so why not do it all.

Ryan Francisco

Why did you choose this position?

Since ninth grade, I have dreamed of being president and sharing my ideas. I know that I have the potential to be a great president and to make the 2010-2011 school year as fun and as productive as possible. Being elected president is more than just a title, it is a responsibility that demands a tremendous amount of time and dedication, and I am ready to take on whatever is headed my way.

What are three characteristics that qualify you for this position?

I think that dedication and effort is crucial to making a great president. I'm also very flexible because I am involved in so many other activities. Also, I can definitely be considered reliable.

Other school activities:

Interact, Math League, Spanish Club, Project 540, National Honor Society, Freshman Transition, Dance Club, Renaissance, and cheerleading.

If elected, how will you perform your duties?

The best part about having been involved with student council over the years has been watching how differently each president chose to handle his/her responsibilities. I have been making a mental list of all the things which I would like to do differently as well as expose the rest of student council to the endless possibilities there are. My goal is to accommodate the needs of every single person who asks my assistance and do so with an open mind and much enthusiasm.

What will make your year different than all the other years?

One of my biggest goals is to find answers to questions and solutions to conflicts that have come up in the past. I have prepared myself to be fully dedicated to making not only each event that student council is in charge of, but the entire year as enjoyable as possible for everyone. I plan to share all of my township pride with the rest of the student body and make an impact on as many people as I can.

Alexandra Richards
