

Find 10 things in your house that have your sound in them	"What do you think you will be doing in 10 years?" Ask this question at the dinner table and have everyone answer.	Read out loud, focus on the words that have your sound	Look at old family pictures. Talk about what's going on in the picture using your best speech	Keep your word list close to the TV remote, during commercials, practice your words
Keep a word list next to your toothbrush, practice every time that you brush your teeth	Hang your word list on the fridge. Practice every time you go to get a snack or drink.	Think of another word that might mean the same thing or the opposite as each word on your list	Keep your word list in the car. Practice every time you stop at red lights.	Turn the TV on mute. Watch a TV show (not cartoons) and talk with someone about what you think is going on using your best speech.
If you won a million dollars, what would you spend it on? Ask this question to your family. Use your best speech when you give your answer.	Look at old family pictures. Talk about what's going on in the picture using your best speech	Make up lists... 5 things that are gross, 5 animals that swim, 5 things at a birthday party, 5 things at Halloween, 5 things they would wish for, etc.	Play "I Spy"... "I spy something white, with long fluffy ears and a fluffy tail that hops."	Teach someone else how to say the sound the right way (could be mom, dad, brother, sister, stuffed animals, grandparents, etc.)
Tell jokes that have your speech sound in them.	Think of 10 words with your sound that go with a holiday/season (Halloween, birthday, Christmas, Spring, Valentine's, summer, etc.)	Read a book. Put down a "tally mark" for each "whoa" (unfamiliar) word you find.	Throw a ball back and forth with someone. Say one of your words each time you catch the ball.	Act out each word on your list. See if someone can guess that it is.
Make a paper airplane. Write your words on the side of the plane. Every time you throw the plane, say your words.	Make up "menus" and have your child "pick out" or "take orders" for dinner	Say your words 3 times fast. Then say them 3 times slow	Put a sticker on the things in your house that have your sound. Say them every time you go by them.	Think of a question for each word to ask your parents