Summer School Program

Gloucester County Institute of Technology is offering a unique, standards-based summer school program for high school students.

The summer program incorporates a NJ Highly Qualified, certified teacher with an online course of study. The program provides access to an in-depth, interactive, online curriculum. It allows the teacher to provide a targeted curriculum that meets the varied needs of individual students. Students can progress in a self-paced learning atmosphere within the five-week program.

Periodic assessments track competency in subject matter and pinpoint difficulties. This flexible delivery system allows one student to complete the program in a three-week period, while another may take the program over a five-week period.

On campus, at the Gloucester County Institute of Technology, classes are conducted with state-of-the-art technology.

If a student chooses to complete the course off site, Internet access is required in order to complete the online course(s) within the five week period.

We encourage students to exercise the option to work in person with our certified teachers on campus between the hours of 9:00am and 12:00pm to enhance their learning opportunities.

PLEASE NOTE: All students are required to be present on the first day of class, Monday, July 8, 2019 to receive and review GCIT's Summer School Handbook and course log-on information.
